SUSIE PERRING

Susie Perring attended the London College of Printing from 1963-1967. Thereafter she pursued a successful career as a graphic designer, working with a number of prestigious design groups. After a break to start a family, she began a number of part-time activities, including distinctive interior design and decoration.

In 1984 she returned to full time artistic work, specialising as a printmaker in etchings, line drawing and aquatints. She has exhibited widely, including four Royal Academy Summer exhibitions, and recently completed two commissions for the new P&O liner Oriana.

Recent exhibitions include:

- 1996 - Aire Sur La Lys. France Half Moon Printmakers Group Show
